NAZI DEFENSE
STOPS ALLIED
CASSINO DRIVE

Stimson Admits U. S. and British Have Been Unable To Take City.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 30.—Secretary of War Stimson, discussing the situation at Cassino, said today "the simple fact is that the Germans stopped us."

He told a press conference the Allied attack on the Italian fortress town "has subsided for the time being without achieving the results for which we had hoped."

The Germans, Stimson said, showed again "that they are obstinate and effective soldiers who do not quit when they are ordered to hold a key post at all cost."

Their occupation of the steep hills where their guns covered the town gave the Nazis a continual advantage, Stimson said. "The bomb and shell destruction which our planes and guns wrought in Cassino did not prevent a garrison defense by those who survived our explosives and by other enemy troops who filtered in to join them."

"The rubble was good cover and the tunnels or caves in the adjoining hills gave shelter and ease of movement. The rains immediately after the plane and gun barrage made a morass of the open ground around the town and limited the use of our tanks, while slowing the advance of troops climbing the hills under fire."

Stimson followed up his blunt acknowledgement that the German stopped the Allies at Cassino with this statement:

"That would be a severe setback only if we did not profit from our lessons. We have learned a great many things since the war and we have put our learning into practice. There is no reason to believe that our ability to profit from experience has ended now."

The secretary also reminded reporters that "no one made this test of allied power or suggested that in these operations we are concentrating our main strength."

He recalled that at the start of the Cassino attack he had said "very real military objectives have already been achieved in the Italian campaign and the results will progressively aid us in the days ahead." He listed the re-opening of the Mediterranean, the knocking out of Italy as an axis partner, the capture of the Italian fleet, the attainment of Italian air bases for use against the Nazis in southern Europe and Germany.

And the tying up of 18 German divisions in actual combat and others in northern Italy which could have been used against Russia or for augmenting German forces elsewhere.

But he added:

"I do not think that this most vital step should be taken by induction and by induction into the Army of men not qualified to serve in the Army."

The secretary emphasized "very strongly" his belief that national service legislation was the best solution of the manpower problem, but that in any case congress should deal with the matter in new legislation, not requiring the Army to induce physically-unqualified men to serve.

Questioned at his press conference about the statement of Under-secretary of War Robert P. Patterson, that the Army would accept induction of 4-F's who refused to voluntarily enter employment in essential activities, Stimson replied he agreed fully that the war effort is suffering by failure to utilize this group of men.

But he added:

"I do not think that this most vital step should be taken by induction and by induction into the Army of men not qualified to serve in the Army."

The secretary emphasized "very strongly" his belief that national service legislation was the best solution of the manpower problem, but that in any case congress should deal with the matter in new legislation, not requiring the Army to induce physically-unqualified men to serve.

Technically the frozen foods—some of which were made point-free earlier—are still on the ration list, but stamps won't be required for them until further notice.

The April charts continue, but at 16 points a pound and margarine at six points, but canned peas drop from three points to zero and carrots are reduced to three points from five for a No. 2 can. Tomato juice will be a point less in can sizes of 14 ounces or smaller.

Canned fruits are being held at present high point values because supply continues short.

HOPKINS CONDITION FAIR

By The Associated Press

ROCHESTER, Minn., March 30.—A bulletin issued today by Mayo Clinic physicians said Harry Hopkins, who underwent an operation yesterday, spent a "fairly comfortable night. His condition continues satisfactory." Physicians said Hopkins, personal friend and adviser of President Roosevelt, was suffering from a "nutritional disturbance."

Marion County Ration Board Members Get OPA Awards

Certificates and Buttons Presented in Recognition of Volunteer Service; Columbus Man Speaks.

At a meeting Tuesday night at the headquarters of the Marion County War Price and Rations Board, certificates of award and a recognition buttons were presented to the 30 members of local board No. 51-1 who have devoted their time during the last two years to the job of rationing.

Those who received the award were Elmer W. Barnhart, chairman of the board, Ralph A. Kelly, in charge of community service for the board, and the following members, each listed by the panel in a birth day:

Auto and Tire panel—Charles E. Cox, Mayo C. Adams, James H. Smith, Carl Schmidt, Robert F. Williams, P. A. Lashley Martin, Clarence Shook, Norman V. Foreman, James R. Smith, Food panel—Roy J. Garneau, Luther B. Geer, William Robert, Roy Reidenbaugh, James B. Bell and Samuel W. Gershner.

Commodities panel—Leo Gott, Edward Behrens, John Ruth and John Makovec.

Price panel—Arthur Zachman, Alfred LaPierre, Don Quaintance and John J. Zulu.

The toastmaster was Judge H. S. Young, who was coordinator of the Civilian Defense for the rural areas of Marion county at the time of the inception of OPA. Judge Young was given the responsibility of setting up the rationing program for Marion county.

The first Rationing coordinator was John Probst who served until that office was abolished and the present set-up started.

In February 1942, E. W. Barnhart was appointed chairman for Local Board No. 51-1 and he has served in that capacity since.

Talks were given by Mr. Barnhart and the executive secretary, C. C. Holliday.

Lawood Smith, former O. S. U grid star now district board operations executive for the Columbus district of OPA, was the principal speaker.

Mr. Smith gave a review of the development and growth of the OPA program and paid tribute to the contribution of the local boards. He said there are now 5,400 local boards operating in the country with 110,000 volunteer board members and 30,000 additional volunteer workers and price panel assistants.

Mr. Smith said that during the first 53 months of World War II the increase in the cost of living was held to 26 per cent as compared with an increase of 65 per cent during the first 53 months of World War I. He said this represented a direct savings of 22 billion dollars on consumer goods and an indirect savings of 67 billion dollars on industrial war goods.

Also representing the Columbus district office of OPA were James Ryan, gasoline rationing representative and John Holzman, field operations officer.

Dr. Carroll Ritchey, amateur magician of Marion, assisted by James E. Wheeler from Columbus gave a program.

A buffet luncheon was served by the clerks of the local board.

CHAPLIN TO TELL OWN LOVE STORY

The Associated Press
LOS ANGELES, March 30—Charlie Chaplin's own story of his love affairs with Joan Berry was told by the defense's climactic testimony today in the film comedian's trial on charges he transported the 24-year-old red-haired film aspirant to New York in a car for immoral purposes.

Tense Attorney Jerry Giesler, announcing only a few lesser witnesses remained to be summoned, indicated he expects to call the white-haired 34-year-old British-born actor, and perhaps conclude the defense's case before nightfall.

After Federal Judge J. F. T. O'Connor yesterday overruled a defense motion for a directed verdict of acquittal, Giesler called eight witnesses in rapid succession.

Most pungent defense testimony so far came from Hans Ruesch, 30, a New York writer.

He said Miss Berry came to his apartment about 2 o'clock on the morning of Dec. 31, 1942, and remained until 8 a.m.

On her arrival, Ruesch asserted, Miss Berry "was not sober," her clothing was disordered and dirty, there was blood about her face. Her knees were bruised and her stockings torn.

U.S. Attorney Charles H. Carr, on cross-examination, failed in an attempt to have Ruesch admit this might have been about Dec. 13, 1942, instead of the later date. Carr did not establish what significance he attached to the Dec. 13 date.

Giesler produced testimony by a Tulsa, Okla., lawyer that three checks, aggregating $402.80 had been paid by his firm to Miss Berry's account in November, 1942, after her New York visit in October of that year which resulted in the charges against Chaplin.

The lawyer, Claude H. Rosenstein identified the checks, one for $98.80, made payable to the Santa Fe railway; another for $249, to the Beverly Hills hotel, and a third, for $110, to the Mayo hotel in Tulsa.

Questioned by Giesler, Rosenstein said he was not acting for Chaplin in making the payments, adding "he had no interest in it whatever."

Frequently Chaplin's interest in the trial seemed to wane. Once during a recess he appeared sound asleep at the counsel table. He aroused with a start when several cameras, shooting closeups, set off flash bulbs almost in his face, Chaplin only grinned.

Ohio Toll Bridge Indebtedness Cut

The Associated Press
COLUMBUS, O., March 30—The state bridge commission in its annual report said today the outstanding bonded debt on four Ohio-owned toll bridges was reduced $421,000 last year.

Because of wartime transportation difficulties, the commission declined to predict when the spans would become toll-free, but expressed hope that the East Liverpool-Chester bridge bonds would be retired in 1952 and the others in 1948.

Bonds paid off during 1943 were: Sandusky Bay bridge, $125,000; East Liverpool-Chester bridge, $123,000; Steubenville-Weirton bridge, $90,000, and Pomeroy-Mason bridge, $81,000, a new high.

At the end of 1943 the bridges at Sandusky and Steubenville had balances almost large enough to meet the bonds maturing next October, the report said. In amounts of $125,000 and $90,000 respectively.

Potentialities of the 4-F's

THE time lag between suggestion and decision on manpower problems has been consistently so dragged out that Manpower Chief McNutt's proposal for inducing 4-F's raises only a remote possibility of action. The idea has obvious merit, nevertheless.

As the manpower chief explained it to the subcommittee of the house military affairs committee investigating draft deferments, classified physically unfit for military duty would be subject to induction, unless entitled to occupational deferments as essential workers. Those inducted then would be directed to essential civilian employment. If they failed to meet requirements, they then would be subject to recall to active military service as non-combatants. No new legislation would be required to do this, because the 4-F's already are subject to service and have been released only because of physical defects.

In effect, the pinn would do for the manpower shortage in war production what the United States would do for a military manpower shortage if the need became acute. It would utilize the physically defective in the war effort, a step which Germany, for instance, has taken in the case of combat troops. A similar possibility exists in the case of discharged veterans and men now over 38, but the great potentialities lie with the 4-F's, who exist in a total of some seven million present and prospective members. It is a modification of the national service idea, applied to a specific group.

Hands Off, with Some Exceptions
GEN. CHARLES DE GAULLE'S advice to the consultative assembly in Algiers to ignore all foreign plans for a post-invasion regime packs the French political issue in a nutshell. But there is more than the political issue involved. The general's hands-off policy is only wishful thinking until the armies of other nations have redeemed France.

It is probable that Frenchmen will not welcome a hands-off policy for all aspects of the post-invasion regime. They will not care, for instance, to be dependent only on Gen. de Gaulle and other political leaders for food, clothing and the numerous details of economic rehabilitation. France needs help more than it needs politics.

It is further probable that if Frenchmen did not know that Allied strategy for Germany's defeat calls for liberation of France, they would be keenly interested in almost any alternative to the Nazi political regime under which they are marking time. Gen. de Gaulle's political power is contingent on the clearing of French soil by the same governments he is warning to hold their distance if they succeed in doing the job.

Gen. de Gaulle, as a politician, has considerably less to do with the future of France than several million young men of assorted political persuasions who are prepared to risk and spend their lives to drive Germans out of the country. Ordinary tact at the present moment would have dictated something more pleasant for their ears than his outburst in Algiers.

Caught in the Crossfire

THE fuel between commentators and congressmen, being a sort of national institution like the bloodier but less systematic wars in the Kentucky hills, adds confusion to the public exchange of recriminations between Walter Winchell and certain congressmen engaged in reprisals for his special brand of tongue-lashing.

The thing that makes this fuel different is the fact the public is caught in the crossfire. Winchell, by implication, has attacked congress as well as congressmen. His curious explanation that he is doing this under official auspices has the effect of making Winchell, himself unimportant. The question has become the identity of his backers, if he really has them. Congress is capable of finding out and should do so, whatever Winchell says.

If he has no official backers—if he turns out to be just a master of the technique of gossip columnizing which he made a vogue—then it's nothing more serious than another clash of viewpoints to be settled in the tradition of American free speech, with the people themselves, making the ultimate decision between right and wrong. We refuse to believe that Winchell can overthrow congress on his own steam, or even that he can do any damage to individual congressmen who don't deserve it.

So They Say—

Liberal arts education has in many places disappeared. Men's colleges are today streamlined to the war, a necessity of our time. The education received by men is toward the one vocation of war. He leaves out the philosophy of life.—Dr. Rowell Gray Ham, president Mount Holyoke college.

The whole tendency since the depression of the early '30's has been for families to share their accommodations with their immediate relatives. But when the war is over, there will be a spreading out.—Shipbuilder Henry J. Kaiser.

Sop up the gravy and squeeze the grapefruit dry. Pick up the bones in your fingers and tip the soup bowl to get the last spoonful.—War Food Administrator Marvin Jones.

News Behind the News

Young Lawyers and Newspapermen Among Men Dewey Picks To Work with Him.

By PAUL MALLON

WASHINGTON, March 30.—A comment frequently heard among men in the political know is: "Dewey has good men around him."

He has. They are a fresh type to politics and government, the nucleus being young lawyers and newspapermen, an interesting combination of talent and background. I have often wondered if a man who knows international ways in the shrewdly balanced news business world, such as Kent Cooper, head of The Associated Press, might not negotiate a better peace than our professional diplomats; and if a newsman, say of the type of Washington Correspondent Arthur Krock, might not make a better ambassador than any bad judge of information we have had.

A phase of this thought has been developed in Gov. Dewey's combination. Closest to him perhaps, in the field of economics and governing the banks of the state, is a former associate editor of the New York Times, Elliott Bell. You would expect a banker or a professor of finance in this job. New York bankers may have been startled by the selection. Strangely enough, they have come to be more than satisfied with the Bell administration.

Sample of Associates

Also from the Times is public relations man James Flugrath, son of the political sage on the Times staff, selected apparently not for social reform purposes or press agency but to do a job. The government's executive secretary, personal political man, and constant companion, is Paul Lockwood, old Brooklyn Eagle graduate, who joined Dewey in district attorney days. He is both lawyer and newsmen.

Agricultural advisers are Chester Dumond, 58 years old and far above the average age of the Dewey tribe, a farm economist who does dirt farming; H. E. Babcock of Cornell, founder of the Grange League Federation; and Cornell Prof. William J. Myers, founder of the Agricultural Credit Corp., for Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau, now state superintendent of agriculture.

Need Seen for Steps To Prevent Germany from Becoming Dominant Power in Europe.

By WALTER LIPPmann

THE Germans are making ready to flood some of the rich lands which, in the course of more than two centuries, the Dutch have reclaimed from the sea. Once the salt water has come in it will take years to restore the fertility of land from which something like a third of the Dutch people earn their living. This is a sample and a symbol of what will confront us in making peace.

When the United Nations make up their minds how they will settle with Germany, they can never afford to forget how Germany has declaimed the population, wasted the resources, destroyed the accumulated capital and disorganized the institutions of the rest of Europe.

Actually, the measure offers an opportunity for the veteran—able or disabled—to reenter civilian life in a useful capacity. It is designed to educate him, support him and start him in business.

Undoubtedly, one of its major aims is to prohibit an aftermath

Marion Army Nurse Is Stewardess on Plane Carrying Mrs. Roosevelt

Mrs. Lucy Roberts, Army nurse, and that was the extent of her knowledge of the plans. Mrs. G. M. Roberts of 633 Girard Avenue, in a letter received a few days ago that she had been ordered to "make like a stewardess" as for a number of officials who entertained Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt on her recent visit to South America.

She described her special mission which started with secret agents on March 8. At that time she was ordered to report to duty on General Walsh's plane, a Pan American liner. Destination was Rio bassy. The group were scheduled to meet Mrs. Roosevelt in Rio.

The return trip to Natal with the celebrities was uneventful until the plane landed and the passengers were faced with camera flashes. Mrs. Roosevelt arrived the following day. Before she left, the nurses gave a tea in her honor and Lt. Roberts said "she really is a charming and sincere woman." After hearing the glowing compliments paid to Lt. Roberts from her passengers, Mrs. Roosevelt talked to her and inquired about her work as air evacuation nurse.

On the trip back to Rio Lt. Roberts was again assigned to the foreign minister and his aide, daughter of Mrs. Caffery of the American embassy. She was the first flight nurse to reach Rio.

Lt. Roberts graduated from Mt. Sinai Hospital in 1940 and stayed on the staff there for a year. Since her commission she has returned to Miami, Fla., with wounded soldiers four times since September. A brother, Lowell Gene Roberts, stationed at storekeeper somewhere in the Pacific area.

Marion Student Heads College Advisory Group

Miss Carolyn King, senior from Marion, was recently appointed chairman of the 1944-45 freshman advisory council of the Woman's College of Duke University, according to word from the university news bureau. Miss King, a Kappa Kappa Gamma, has been a member of the PAC for the past year and is on dean's list. She was a member of Sandals, served on the publication board two years and is present coed manager of the campus annual.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray R. King of 421 Mt. Vernon avenue.

struction, repair and relocation traded foods to the German army.

The workers are working two hour shifts.

The girls, says the paper, "average 12 years of age, but there are also nine and 10-year-olds among them." Grandmothers on the payroll range in age up to 72. Women volunteers expect to work in munitions plants and other factories "wherever possible near their homes," the paper said, and millions are being urged to accept home work assignments such as sewing.

These drastic efforts to get women to fill the gaps in the labor ranks take on particular significance when one reads appeals to bombed out workers to return to their jobs.

One appeal stresses that "only the worker who has found full authorized employment in new production areas has the right to remain away. Otherwise, failure to return will make him subject to punishment."

Marion Woman In Choir Tribute To Noted Conductor

Mrs. Earl N. Hale of East Church street has returned after spending a week in Princeton, N.J., where she appeared as one of the Westminster choir when it paid a vocal tribute to Bruno Walter, choir conductor.

The choir appeared with the Philharmonic-Symphony orchestra in Carnegie Hall on March 19 honoring Mr. Walter, who was celebrating his fiftieth year as a conductor.

Special recognition to the long years of service contributed by Mr. Walter was given following the final concert. The man who has given so much to music, both modern and classical, was presented with many gifts, among which a photograph of Arturo Toscanini bearing this inscription:

"To my friend Bruno Walter with unalterable affection, cordial friendship and real admiration on the day of the fiftieth anniversary of his shining career as conductor. His old colleague, Arturo Toscanini."

He received one of the greatest ovations in the memory of the Hall when the final strains of the Ninth Symphony which ended the concert was heard. Following the tribute, the Westminster choir sang Luther's "Benedictus."

Mrs. Hale, formerly a Westminster student and choir member, is director of the Epworth Methodist choir and also a member of the Marion Lecture Recital club.

GERMANS HIT NEW AIR BLOWS

RAF Blasts Rail Yards Near Paris and Nazi Engine Works.

By The Associated Press

LONDON, March 30 — RAF Halifax attacked railway targets at Vaires, 15 miles east of Paris, and Lancasters again raided an engine plant at Lyon in southern France last night while Mosquitos bombed Kiel, the air ministry announced. One bomber was lost.

The British night operation came after a day in which the United States Eighth Air Force sent Flying Fortresses against the Brunswick area of central Germany and Liberators to the Pas-de-Calais coast of France.

For the first time since March 23 German fighters gave serious battle to the Fortresses and their escort of Lightnings, Mustangs and Thunderbolts roared over the Brunswick region, vital Nazi aircraft producing center.

A U.S. communiqué announced today the American fliers had shot down 48 Nazi planes, escorting fighters accounting for 39 of the enemy and the heavy bombers for the remaining nine. Other enemy planes were shot up on the ground by American fighters which strafed airfields on the way home.

Nine U.S. bombers and nine fighters failed to return from all operations of the day, including the Pas-de-Calais raid, where the only opposition was anti-aircraft fire.

The Brunswick bombing, carried out with instruments through a heavy overcast, was the 16th time this month that U.S. forces had attacked Germany from British bases and the 24th attack against all enemy targets, a communiqué said.

In the dogfights that dotted the skies around the Fortresses Capt. Don S. Gentile, of Piqua, O., a Mustang pilot, shot down three of the enemy, raising his score to 21 and tying Maj. Walker Mahurin of Fort Wayne, Ind., for second place among American aces in the European theater. Both are only one behind the leader, Capt. Robert S. Johnson of Lawton, Okla.

4-Fs Sent to Factories Must Join Labor Union

By The Associated Press WASHINGTON, March 30—Any 4-Fs assigned to work in essential civilian or war industries under provisions of legislation being drafted by a house military sub-committee presumably will have to join a union if the shop to which they are assigned is a union shop.

Undersecretary of War Robert P. Patterson explained they will remain "in a civilian status" and be entitled to "the wages and other ordinary incidents of civilian employment."

The "ordinary incidents," he added, might include joining a union as condition to receiving employment, if that be one of the conditions of employment affecting other workers in the shop to which a 4-F is assigned.

The British night operation came after a day in which the United States Eighth Air Force sent Flying Fortresses against the Brunswick area of central Germany and Liberators to the Pas-de-Calais coast of France.

For the first time since March 23 German fighters gave serious battle to the Fortresses and their escort of Lightnings, Mustangs and Thunderbolts roared over the Brunswick region, vital Nazi aircraft producing center.

A U.S. communiqué announced today the American fliers had shot down 48 Nazi planes, escorting fighters accounting for 39 of the enemy and the heavy bombers for the remaining nine. Other enemy planes were shot up on the ground by American fighters which strafed airfields on the way home.

Nine U.S. bombers and nine fighters failed to return from all operations of the day, including the Pas-de-Calais raid, where the only opposition was anti-aircraft fire.

The Brunswick bombing, carried out with instruments through a heavy overcast, was the 16th time this month that U.S. forces had attacked Germany from British bases and the 24th attack against all enemy targets, a communiqué said.

In the dogfights that dotted the skies around the Fortresses Capt. Don S. Gentile, of Piqua, O., a Mustang pilot, shot down three of the enemy, raising his score to 21 and tying Maj. Walker Mahurin of Fort Wayne, Ind., for second

REPULSE GERMAN ATTACK AT ANZIO

By The Associated Press ALLIED HEADQUARTERS NAPLES, March 30—Pifth army forces repelled two small enemy attacks on the Anzio beachhead yesterday while allied planes ranged over Italy, hitting targets in the Rome, Turin and Bolzano areas and swooping across the Atlantic to bomb Sofia.

The communiqué made no reference to the Cassino front. The attack on Sofia, capital of Bulgaria, was carried out last night by both heavy and medium bombers.

In addition to assaults on rail lines in northern Italy, air operations yesterday included sweeps against the Viterbo airfield north of Rome and harbor and rail installations in northwest Italy.

Twenty-two enemy aircraft were destroyed during the day's operations against an allied force of 11. The Mediterranean allied air force flew approximately 1,800 sorties.

Field dispatches said German tanks in Cassino again tried the strength of allied defenders in the continental, hotel area, but Fifth army artillery dispersed them. A German patrol crossed the Rapido river south of the town but withdrew when allied forces engaged it.

Field dispatches said German tanks in Cassino again tried the strength of allied defenders in the continental, hotel area, but Fifth army artillery dispersed them. A German patrol crossed the Rapido river south of the town but withdrew when allied forces engaged it.

The wide range of the air attack took allied airmen westward to Holland on the north coast of Dutch New Guinea, and to Timor in the Dutch East Indies, an area long under complete Japanese dominion.

Pop-up lighting continued on Bougainville in the Solomons, where trapped Japanese have been trying suicidal assaults against Americans dug in near Empress Augusta bay.

The Miss of the repetition will be solemnized at 9 o'clock Sunday morning and will be preceded by the blessing of the palms.

A number of priests from neighboring cities will assist the pastor, Rev. William J. Spiekerman, and the assistant pastor, Rev. Francis Lay, in the Sunday afternoon services which will close with a solemn procession of priests and acolytes with the Fourth Degree Knights of Columbus serving as honor guard.

The Forty Hours Devotion originated in the early part of the 16th Century. The year of 1527 saw the city of Milan in the throes of despair, scourged by disease and famine and the added horror of threatened invasion by the imperial army which had sacked the city of Rome. In their extremity the people had recourse to prayer. Led by a priest they gathered in the church, knelt in adoration, and prayed for deliverance from the impending evil.

For 40 consecutive hours groups of faithful adepts alternately kept their prayerful watch. Then prayers were heard and Milan was spared and peace restored to the people.

Zarief, short, trim, mustached man, who is concert master for the Columbia Broadcasting System, refused to comment much about his fatherhood, explaining he sold exclusive rights to his story to the New York Daily News.

Teddy Zarief, 6, the couple's other child, was completely disinterested in his three little sisters. His only comment was: "Now I have a new brother to play with."

The grandmother of the quadruplets, Mrs. Isidore Miller, of Newark, N. J., and Teddy was unimpressed by the impending event but casually turned it to good use several months ago.

He was late to school, she said, explained to his teacher that he had to help his mother put her shoes on "because she was expecting quadruplets." The teacher told Mrs. Miller later she thought Teddy must be an unusual, imaginative child because, although she had heard almost every excuse for tardiness, quadruplets was brand new one.

will ask the War department to help us draft the legislation."

Predicting prompt action by both the senate and the house, Costello said he believed the legislation should provide for control of activities not only of 4-Fs between 18 and 37 but also of 4-Fs up to 45 and of non-fathers between 38 and 45.

Ultimately, Costello declared, the armed forces presumably will insist on taking only men under 31 for general service putting older men into labor battalions if they fail to go into essential jobs.

As evidence that there is a vast pool of labor available among 4-Fs, Costello cited testimony given the committee yesterday by Undersecretary of War Robert P. Patterson.

Patterson, advocating legislation to conscript 4-Fs who won't take essential work, said there were 3,500,000 4-Fs between 18 and 37. About 1,000,000 of them are qualified to take industrial jobs to release younger men he said.

Patterson's Proposal

His proposal was that 4-Fs, not in essential work be inducted and placed in an enlisted reserve from which they would be assigned to jobs or, refusing to take jobs, would be used in labor brigades for such work as picking apples, harvesting crops and doing other war-supportive work.

These would, for all practical purposes, be in the Army but would not be eligible for mustering-out pay, bonuses, or other general veterans' benefits.

The chances of obtaining large numbers of fighting men from young farmers now deferred, Costello said, probably would be lessened by yesterday's decision to abandon the unit system in passing on farm deferments.

Former Ferguson Aid Indicted in Columbus

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

COLUMBUS, O., March 30.—A few hours after he resigned as publicist for State Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson, Clarence J. Doyle yesterday was indicted on a charge of making a false application to the state civil service commission.

The Franklin county grand jury indictment alleged that in his application for the publicist job Doyle said he was a graduate of Ohio State university and that he had never been convicted of a crime, whereas he had served prison terms for embezzlement and writing a bad check, and had not graduated from the school.

Conviction on the offense, a misdemeanor, carries a penalty of six months in jail, a fine of from $50 to $500, or both. The statute also provides the guilty party must forfeit his public employment.

The boys, all from the eastern part of Marion county, were brought to the county juvenile detention home Monday night and held until they appeared before Juvenile Judge Oscar Gast the following morning when they were reprimanded and released.

CRISIS NEARING IN PALESTINE

Clashes Expected To Follow

Expiration of British White Paper.

The Associated Press
JERUSALEM, March 30—The situation in Palestine on the eve of the expiration of the British white paper under which the difficult Jewish and Arab matters have been regulated since 1939 found both sides considerably although illegally armed today, with the picture splintered by recent sporadic outbreaks of violence and the outlook still admittedly tense. Authorities continued hopeful, however, that major clashes could be averted. A dusk curfew has been imposed and stringent laws carrying the death penalty for extreme terrorist activities have been reissued following last week's bomb-throwing incidents which cost the lives of nine policemen, six of them British.

While the broad calm continued, the fiercest dust storms in 15 years raged across the Sinai desert, cutting off Palestine road and road communications with Egypt.

Act To Combat Outlaws

Representatives of leading Jewish organizations now are mapping plans to combat outlaw elements.

The 1939 white paper which expires tomorrow and which neither Arabs nor Jews agreed to, provided that 75,000 Jewish immigrants might be admitted to Palestine up to March 31, 1944 with immigration prohibited thereafter except with consent of the Palestine majority. This meant consent of the Arabs, who now outnumber the Jews two to one.

Jewish immigration into the country has been slowed to a trickle by the war and the latest announcement in the British house of commons on the subject said only slightly more than 47,000 had arrived in the country since 1939, adding another 28,000 might be admitted to fill the original quota as conditions permitted. This statement caused little open stir in the Middle-East.

Fights Grow More Frequent

However, in recent weeks outbreaks of violence have been more frequent. Palestine authorities claim these are due primarily to Jewish groups and that the Arabs have been ostentatiously restraining from terrorist activity.

Authorities have information that Jews and Arabs are well armed, the Arabs, however, on a more individual and less organized basis.

British authorities hope the crisis can be averted on the basis of a new commission has been proposed for a post-war study of the situation and because the Arabs now have given support to the existing white paper.

The Arab and Jewish views as far as proved completely irreconcilable. Both sides claim historical backing for controlling the country. Jewish authorities point to the report by Lord Balfour recommending the establishment of a Jewish national home in Palestine, and to support given this proposal both in the United States and Britain. The Arabs point to a report to President Wilson in 1919 by an American commission in effect opposing the creation of a Jewish state.

Prof. Yoder To Present Special Music Program

A special program will be given by Prof. J. W. Yoder of Huntingdon, Pa., music director for the Gipsy Smith union evangelistic mission now in progress here. Saturday at 7:30 in First Church of the Brethren, East Church street and Reed avenue.

Prof. Yoder is a native of central Pennsylvania and was reared in an Old Order Amish home and community. He was graduated from Juniata college and taught in the high schools of that state. Later he was head of the music department of Juniata college. He served also as supervisor of public school music in the public schools of central Pennsylvania. For years he led music at many county teachers' institutes in Pennsylvania, Indiana and Illinois and has conducted music for evangelistic campaigns and religious conventions in many states.

Recently Prof. Yoder wrote a book entitled "Rosanna of the Amish" in which he attempts to give a sympathetic understanding of the quaint Amish people, who are so frequently misrepresented in current literature. He has also compiled the music of the Amish people, which had been passed from ear to ear for 250 years, and never written until now.

For the last few years he has given much time to presenting programs consisting of "medley hymn-sings," solos, and lectures on some phases of Amish customs and culture. "Due to many requests coming from people who have learned to know Prof. Yoder during the Gipsy Smith campaign for the opportunity of hearing one of his programs, arrangements have been made for him to give the program on Saturday evening in the First Church of the Brethren," Rev. E. M. Hertzler, the pastor, announced.

STATE LEAGUE HEAD TALKS TO Y'S MEN

Donnelly Discusses Marion's Baseball Prospects.

Marion's outlook for participation in organized baseball this year was discussed by Joe Donnelly of Columbus, president of the Ohio State league, at a meeting of the Y's Men's Service club Wednesday night at the Y.

He told the group that his hopes for a Marion team are, at the moment, centered around Dale Miller, former business manager of the Indianapolis team in the American association, who has just been released from military service.

Donnelly said he will talk to Miller Sunday about the possibility of coming to Marion as manager. He said Miller has shown some interest in this possibility in a telephone conversation.

Regarding efforts that have so far been unsuccessful to raise Marion funds to back a team, Donnelly declared he believed local financial support would be forthcoming if a competent manager is lined up and comes in to set up an organization.

He asked the club to pledge physical and moral support in the efforts to establish a Marion team, and the club, at the conclusion of his talk, gave him a vote of confidence.

Donnelly was accompanied to Marion by Emmett Riley, now a salesman for a sporting goods concern and former catcher in the Ohio State league when Marion had a team in the league around 1911.

Harding's New Bond Sale Off To Slow Start

Harding High school's "Adopt a Service Man or Woman" bond drive lagged today with receipts of only $637.50 out of a total pledge of well over $4,000 made by home rooms of the school.

Plans had been made to raise the quota in the first two weeks of the present drive in order to fill another larger quota before the end of the school year.

A list of costs of equipment for men and women in various branches of the service was submitted to home rooms last week and they chose one or more from the list. Some rooms are using names of an actual person who has attended Harding and is now in the service. A goal of $2,589 announced last week was based on the list of service people as it stood before home rooms made their choices. Since some of the rooms have taken the higher priced services the goal has been raised considerably.

A No-Point Club Luncheon

MAKE A MARSHMALLOW! Chef Giacomo Carisio serves a non-fattening, unrationed club luncheon—but good!

By CHARLOTTE ADAMS
Associated Press Food Editor

Whether it's your bridge club or a dozen or a woman's club of 150, you can plan a fine luncheon party in line with the government's current low-point no-point campaign. In this fashion, you can also avoid making your members starve at home in order to have a little party with their friends outside.

Women's luncheons, on the whole, tend to be too elaborate. They are too much of the marshmallow and maraschino cherry (and once there was whipped cream) school. There's scarcely a female creature who isn't interested in keeping her figure slim. There's scarcely one either, who doesn't like to entertain with elegance. The greatest elegance, the greatest sophistication—and the slimmest figures—are achieved through simplicity. When we've all really learned that, we will give up maraschino cherries on our salads and fussiness in our food and we will be far more relaxed and charming people than we were in the days when we got mixed up and thought that being elaborate was the same thing as being elegant.

Simple, but Beautiful

I offer here what seems to me a perfect luncheon for your club. It's well balanced. It's hearty enough to be satisfying, without making you feel overfed. It can be served either at table or buffet style. We took the accompanying photographs at one of New York's more elegant restaurants, the Casbah. There isn't a dish suggested which you would find difficult to prepare. Except for the use of butter or margarine, there isn't a ration point needed to produce the whole meal. Here it is:

Menu—Cream of Chicken Soup with Croutons, Chiffonade Salad; Mixed Fruit Cookies.

With the first two courses you might serve Melba toast or thin bread-and-butter sandwiches. If you choose the latter, use dark and light bread for variety of appearance, as well as flavor. Here's the soup recipe of Giacomo Carisio, chef of the Casbah.

Cream of Chicken Soup (For Six)—8 cups chicken consomme, $\frac{1}{2}$ lb. butter or margarine, $\frac{1}{2}$ cup flour, $\frac{1}{2}$ cup cream, 2 onions chopped, 1 stalk celery, chopped, bay leaves, dash red pepper, 2 teaspoons salt.

Sauté onion and celery in butter or margarine until soft. Do not brown. Add flour and blend well. Add rest of ingredients and simmer gently for about a half hour. Strain through a coarse sieve. Serve with croutons.

A mixture of salad greens with varying shades makes a bowl of salad like the one shown alluring to the eye. So does the incision of bits of cooked beets—the factor that makes a salad a chiffonade. And grated hard-cooked eggs sprinkled generously over the top add much to color and flavor. Here is the Casbah's recipe for French Dressing to go with this salad. The anchovy paste and caviar are, for most of us, out of a dream world, but I've left them in anyway, just to remind you of the good old days! They are in no way essential to cookie sale.

French Dressing—1 tablespoon salt, $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon pepper, $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon English mustard, $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon anchovy paste, 1 tablespoon Russian caviar, 1 teaspoon chopped chives, $\frac{1}{2}$ cup vinegar, 1 cup salad oil.

Mix thoroughly all the ingredients but the oil. Then beat the oil in very slowly, drop by drop.

A Menu for Easter Sunday

By ALICE DENHOFF
BY THAT IT TAKES A HEAP OF time, points saving and pool in order to make that Easter lamb roast materialize on family dinner table; most of us giving far more attention to preparing and cooking of roasts. And with our knowledge of nutrition and the desire to create a good meal, one well balanced and filled with vital foods, rather than a rich and stodgy meal that engenders nothing but satiety and tired feelings.

Easter Menu

A wonderfully good and well balanced Easter Sunday dinner might well be: grapefruit or clear soup followed by roast spring lamb with asparagus, Fransonia potatoes, currant mint sauce, melba toast, crisp summer salad, strawberry shortcake and beverage.

Tomato bouillon might start off a baked ham dinner, the ham served with horseradish sauce, green beans, baked potatoes, spiced crabapples, lettuce and green pepper salad, apricot Bavarian cream and beverage.

Baked stuffed lamb chops, well prepared, is a dish worthy to star at the most important dinner. Start off with grapefruit and mint jelly, then the meat with buttered baby beets, parsley ball potatoes, pickled peaches, salad greens with Lorenzo dressing, and for dessert coffee, caramel parfait, and beverage.

Stuffed Lamb Chops

Here is a good recipe for the lamb chops for six servings. Have 6 lamb chops from the rib cut 1½ inches thick and cut these half way through to the bone. Season with salt and pepper. Sauté tablespoon chopped onion and one cup sliced fresh mushrooms in 4 tablespoons melted fat until onion is delicately browned. Add 2 tablespoons flour, tablespoon water and 4 tablespoons chili sauce, and cook until thickened, stirring constantly. Use mixture to stuff between chop halves, fastening with toothpicks. Place chops in shallow pan and bake at 400 degrees F. 35 to 40 minutes.

Lorenzo Salad Dressing

Salad is an important part of a well prepared meal and those who like dressing enjoy a deviation from the usual mixtures. Lorenzo dressing answers the demand for something different. To prepare ½ cup dressing combine ½ cup French dressing, tablespoon chili sauce, 2 tablespoons watercress (chopped) and 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce. Chill. Mix well before serving. For another flavorful dressing combine and blend ½ cup French dressing, 2 tablespoons chili sauce, 1 tablespoon finely chopped red or green pepper and teaspoon scraped onion.

BUSY PHONE MAN
By The Associated Press
BOUGAINVILLE — Marines of the communications section were asking if anyone here had seen Kelly after they hit the beach with the invasion forces.

Pvt. First Class Thomas E. Kelly, former Farmington, Minn., telephone employee, was supposed to be manning field telephone from the beach to the assault force, but they couldn't find him anywhere.

Meanwhile, a combat team was enjoying the service of a "guest" Marine who helped clean out a pillbox, killed a brace of Japs, and then carried a vital message to a mortar battery.

Close serenity showed the "guest" of the combat team was communications' missing phone man.

Explained Kelly to his commanding officer: "We couldn't use the phone right away. I didn't have anything to do, so I took off with the combat team."

Gems or Rolls in Menu

By BETSY NEWMAN

Serve bread at every meal, say government diet experts, also a cereal food once, or maybe twice a day. Let me remind you again that these menus are for people in normal health, with few allergies and not in need of special diets.

MENU

Pork Chops, Mashed Potatoes, Creamed Cabbage, Apple and Carrot Salad, Parker House Rolls or Date Gems, Jelly, Tea.

Apple and Carrot Salad

Lettuce or other salad, green, 2 apples, Salad dressing, 1 c. grated or finely cut raw carrots.

Arrange salad greens on individual plates or in salad bowl. Cut up apples, unpeeled if skins are tender, and mix with carrots, then blend well with salad dressing and serve on greens with a small spoonful of mayonnaise or cooked salad dressing on top of each serving. A nut meat may top the dressing if you wish.

Date Gems

One c. chopped dates or raisins, 2 c. flour, $\frac{1}{2}$ c. salt, 1-3 c. shortening, 1 egg, 1 c. milk, 2 tsps. baking powder.

Stone dates and chop coarsely. Sift together flour, which has been sifted once and then measured, salt and baking powder. Cut shortening into flour, then mix in dates or raisins and form a stiff batter with beaten egg and milk. Bake in hot, well greased gem pans in a moderate oven for about 20 minutes.

Parker House Rolls

Two c. flour, 2 tsps. all-purpose baking powder, 2 tsps. sugar, $\frac{1}{2}$ c. salt, 2 tsps. shortening, 2-3 c. milk.

Sift flour, measure and sift again with salt, sugar and baking powder; cut or rub in shortening until fat is thoroughly blended with flour. Mix to very soft dough with milk. Mix with knife in preference either to spoon or hands. Roll to 1-3 inch in thickness, cut with round or oval cutter, and crease in center of each biscuit with center of handle of a case knife dipped in flour. Brush one-half with melted butter and fold over. Put in pans and bake.

When digested with water and acids, cellulose changes into starch-like materials and sugar-like substances which have nutritive value, according to Glickler.

Synthetic Lumber On Tap in Post-War Era

By International News Service

IOWA CITY, Ia.—"The age of steel" of the past century may give way to "the age of cellulose" in the coming era.

This is the belief expressed by Prof. George Glickler, head of the University of Iowa's chemistry department.

Glickler predicted that many articles of commerce will be made from synthetic lumber derived from cellulose, especially grown for this purpose by the botanist and treated by the chemist.

"This will be necessary because a serious metal shortage will have to be faced," the professor explained.

When digested with water and acids, cellulose changes into starch-like materials and sugar-like substances which have nutritive value, according to Glickler.

DOGS CAN TAKE IT

Put in pans was not explained.

Holland To Aid in War on Japs

Liberation from Nazis To Be Followed by Moves To Help Allies.

By International News Service

LONDON—Larger forces to join the Allied offensive against Japan will be recruited in Holland immediately after its liberation from the Nazis. Lieut. Adm. J. T. Furstner, Netherlands navy minister, declared.

Speaking on the second anniversary of the days leading to the battle of the Java Sea, Admiral Furstner called upon the youth of Holland to be ready.

Bays Task Will Be Great

"The task of beating Japan is so great, so comprehensive and so important that the most complete forces of the Netherlands people will have to be mobilized," he declared.

Furstner pointed out that under present-day conditions "no people in the world—and this naturally includes the eastern Asiatic peoples—can liberate itself. They have to be helped by modernly equipped forces coming from outside the occupied territory."

Of the modern forces which will be used in Eastern Asia a good part must be Dutch, he asserted. Preparations to this end have been made.

Admiral Furstner stressed that inadequate appropriations had been made for the Dutch navy before the war. As an illustration he cited that "when in 1935 the Netherlands spent 8.69 per cent of its budget for its armed forces, Japan spent 32.7 per cent, while in Germany the official figures already were 'secret.'" A new navy, he said, must be built up.

Calls for Volunteers

Addressing the young people of occupied Holland, the navy minister said:

"After the liberation of the Netherlands we need immediate voluntary registration of many thousands of Netherlands young men and women willing to make sacrifices for their fatherland. "Tens of hundreds of new ships will have to be manned. Hundreds of aircrews will have to be formed, thousands of young people will have to be trained for the Indies, so that when the islands are liberated we will be able to continue

Women Too Busy To Become Court Cases

By International News Service

PITTSBURGH—The present feminine population at the Allegheny County Workhouse is the lowest that Sup't Lawrence P. Keenan can remember.

Keenan believes that the war and the entry of women into industry are responsible. He declared:

"They're working as machinists and riveters, inspectors, and shipping clerks, and they have money and are staying off the streets."

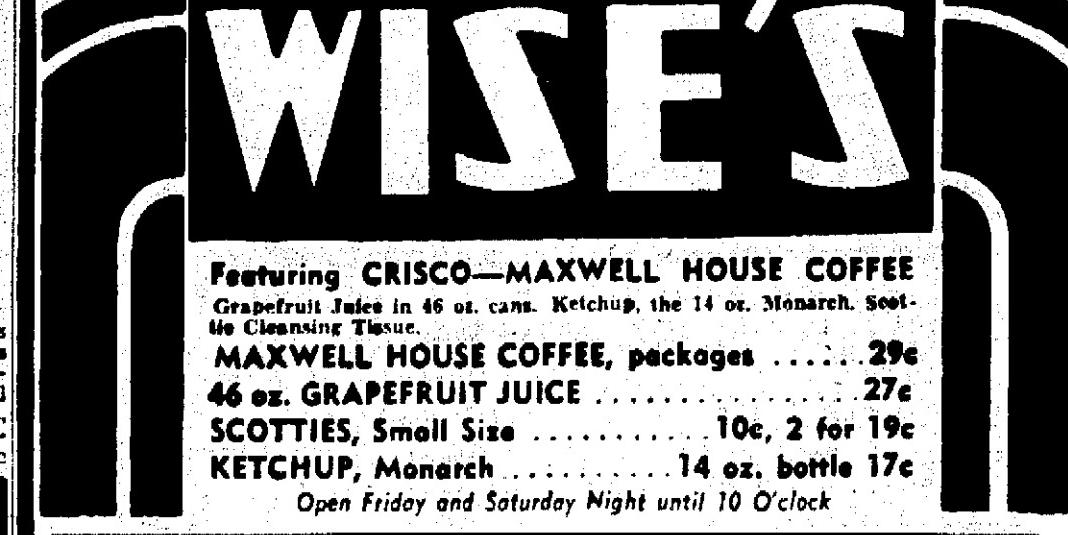

Most of the women prisoners at the workhouse are sent there from morals courts after being picked up as vagrants.

Mechanics' School At Waldo Ends Sessions

An evening Mechanics school at Waldo held its final session of instruction last Thursday night at the school shop under the direction of A. B. Sanderson, local vocational agriculture teacher, and W. E. Neely of Marion. Classes were sponsored by the Young Men Farmers' club through the school board. Twelve sessions of three hours each were held on Tuesday and Thursday nights beginning Feb. 15. Twenty-seven were enrolled with an average attendance of 14. Each individual furnished the material he worked with, some repairing old machinery and others making new articles. N.C.O. League May Disband As Schools Seek New Ties

The North-Central Ohio High school athletic conference, which was formed at the end of World war I and has functioned annually since, reached its most critical stage Monday night when a meeting of three league and four non-league schools was held in Bucyrus to consider its dissolution and the formation of a new league in its stead.

No definite decision was reached, but it is expected another meeting will be held within the next week to take final action.

The situation shaped up like this:

Shelby, Bucyrus and Gallon, Bucyrus in particular, are of the opinion that the N. C. O. loop as it now stands is an unevenly-matched proposition. According to Edwin Gearhart, principal of Bucyrus High school and N. C. O. president, Ashland, Marion and Mt. Vernon have too large enrollment for his school, Shelby and Gallon. He pointed especially to Ashland High school, which has a male enrollment of 415 in grades nine to 12 while Bucyrus has only 180, less than one-half as many. Gallon is said to have about 225 boys in high school and Shelby 200. Harding High, with only three grades, 10 to 12, has approximately 400. Mt. Vernon is somewhat smaller but is still considerably larger than the enrollment of Bucyrus, Shelby or Gallon.

in such a position it doesn't quite know which way to turn. Jim Lympner, Gallon coach, said emphatically he wants the league to operate next year. Even if it is disbanded, Lympner would like to see his Gallon team play Marion, Ashland and Mt. Vernon, because these teams always draw the largest crowds to Gallon sports attractions.

This was the second flare-up, aimed at breaking up the league, since the close of basketball season in late February. At the annual N. C. O. winter meeting, a motion to end league operations was voted down, 3 to 2. This argument grew out of a protest by Ashland officials to Marion, stating that Ashland refused to play any more games on the small Edison junior high school floor here.

The North-Central Ohio league began in 1919 and since the membership has been almost constant, Mansfield and Delaware are the only charter schools which have dropped out of the league. Mansfield withdrew in 1937 and Delaware several years before in view of the relatively long distances traveled to other league cities. Bucyrus withdrew for a few campaigns but came back. Mt. Vernon entered in 1938 when Bucyrus was not competing in the loop.

Opinion is sharply divided among N. C. O. athletic officials as to whether the league should be disbanded. The three "big" schools, Marion, Ashland and Mt. Vernon, appear to be in favor of continuing the conference. However, officials of these schools have made it clear that they want a "yes or no" decision as soon as possible so they can rearrange their schedules for next year accordingly. In the event the loop is broken up, if a decision is postponed indefinitely, and finally reached shortly before the start of school next year, the three schools left out in the cold probably would have a hard time finding opponents as suitable replacements for the other three N. C. O. teams.

Shelby and Bucyrus seem to be the instigators of the movement to break up the league with Gallon

Side Glances at the Sports Situation

Sports odds and ends here and elsewhere:

"Deep in the Heart of Texas," a big song hit of year or two ago, probably is the theme song of Vic Dorris, now an Army private and up until three weeks ago football coach and physical education instructor of Harding High school. According to reports received by friends here, Vic has been stationed in a Texas camp. Tom Hurst, first string center on the 1942 Harding football eleven, the first Dorris-coached team here, is reported to be in the same camp. He was sent to the Ft. Thomas, Ky., reception center early this month at the same time as Dorris and accompanied his former coach to Texas. Hurst played a regular position for the Carnegie Tech grid outfit as a freshman this fall.

The leather will be flying thick and fast at Chatfield High school Friday night when the first Crawford county high school boxing tourney is staged. All but two schools will enter teams. Starting time is 6:45. The team which the winner of each bout represents will be given two points and the loser will be given one point. A trophy will be awarded to the school finishing with the most points. All fights will be of two rounds' duration, each session lasting two minutes. Drawings will exist before long as Harry Swackhamer, Shelby tutor, is expecting a call from Uncle Sam. Dinges of Ashland college, George

The two N. C. O. bosses who say they're sure about continuing in the coaching business next year are A. L. Buckner of Ashland and Jim Lympner of Gallon.

The initial county athletic banquet will be held in the Waldo High school gymnasium Saturday night, starting at 8:30. Clyde Perry, Waldo school superintendent, said about 150 are expected to attend, including approximately 120 players, the 12 high school coaches, and county superintendents. Players eligible to attend are the 10 boys from each school who were nominated by their coaches for participation in the county tournament. Dinner will be served by members of the Waldo P.T.A. D. T. Mills, county superintendent of schools, has charge of the program.

Managers Ask Only Sunshine To Brighten Training Season

By The Associated Press
NEW YORK, March 30—White major league managers are moaning, "who said ball teams never will train in the south again?"

President Ford Frick of the National League can find a little sunshine in the clouds. Stopping off in a snowstorm at Muncie, Ind., to visit the Pittsburgh Pirates, Frick pointed out that all clubs were suffering equally from bad weather.

Boston Red Sox—With seven absences, Joe Cronin was concerned about two, Oscar J. Jaschinski and Tom McHugh, from Canada and Tom McHugh from Little Rock, Ark. Others delayed by travel difficulties from west coast.

Chicago Cubs—Pitcher Paul Derringer is nursing a sprained ankle.

Chicago White Sox—Jimmy Dykes named Thornton Lee, Bill Dietrich and Orval Grover to play Saturday's exhibition against Pittsburgh.

New York Giants—Whereas, of infielder Hugh Luby, who hasn't been heard from since he was supposed to have left San Francisco March 23, provided a rainy-day puzzle.

Brooklyn Dodgers—Holder Augie Galan was expected to camp today.

St. Louis Cards—Billy Sauer might have been inclined to ask what are those "certain physical benefits" as he cancelled today's scheduled exhibition with the Columbus auditorium Tuesday. Freeman field team and prepared night, won the Marion Goldenhead head for Louisville, Ky., for a Navy's middleweight championship. He decided three opponents—exhibitions against the Chicagoents here to take the title, beat White Sox. NEW YORK, March 30—Giving some consideration, no doubt, to Utah's success in the N. C. A. A. cage tournament, Wyoming is planning to resume basketball next season, with Ev Shelton returning to his old job as coach. And Colorado likely will follow suit if the Army vacates the field house. Real hard-luck guy of the hardwood is Neal Harris, Albright college coach. He worked all season tutoring an 18-year-old, six-foot, 8½, freshman for stardom next year—drilling him to become a "goal-tender"—and now the rules makers have wiped out a season's labor.

The Bowlers' Victory Legion has purchased 200,000 decks of cards; 133,000 books and 17,000 fishing kits for men in the armed forces. . . . The Philly Eagles report—hearing from a football prospect who is 4-F "because I have only one eye, a few bad teeth, a bad nose, flat feet, and a bad knee." If his name ever leaks out, the Eagles, fear the rush of rival clubs to sign the guy will be terrific. . . . Freddie Sommers, who once managed Cleo Shana for Olsen and Johnson, reports Milton Berle has offered $5,000 for a half interest in lightweight Mike Delia. Wonder why he always picks on comedians? . . . Rochester U., which apparently liked its taste of big-time football last fall, is looking for a "name" coach to replace Bud Groot, at a fancy salary.

Tommy Loughran, former light heavyweight champion, now a physical instructor at the Philadelphia Navy yard, has been promoted to staff sergeant in the Marines. . . . and Jack Dempsey has been upped to commander in the Coast Guard. . . . Lambert Redd, former Bradley Tech broad jumper, has returned to the United States after flying 187 sorties against the Japs. . . . After one look at the remodeled Tong school baseball field, the ex-big lacquers at the Bainbridge, Md., naval training station hollered, "Uncle" and Athletic Officer Lieut. Hardy Pierce went about building some fences only 330 to 400 feet from the plate. . . . Capt. Chuck Fenske of Truxas Field, Wis., who held the indoor mile record until Gil Dodds busted it, thinks that Dodds could do better than his 4:06.4 with more attention to his pace.

St. John's and Utah Play for Title Tonight

By The Associated Press
NEW YORK, March 30—Utah's "squeeze kids" and St. John's meet tonight to collect a $30,000 contribution to the Red Cross and to decide the unofficial national basketball championship.

A crowd of about 18,000 is expected at Madison Square Garden for the clash between Utah, winner of the National Collegiate A.A. title, and St. John's, winner of the National Invitational tournament.

Although there's no official title at stake, the victor likely will be informally recognized as national champion, just as Wyoming was a year ago.

Mike Peppe Moans As His Former Stars Now Oppose Him

By The Associated Press
ANN ARBOR, Mich., March 30—The 1944 National A. A. U. indoor swimming meet, which sends more than 100 stars and would-be stars splashing into Michigan's cool tomorrow and Saturday, is framed with wartime irony for the attending team champion, Ohio State.

Soddy Buckeye Coach Mike Peppe will watch Bill Smith lead Great Lakes to an inevitable team victory, thinking that in normal times the Hawaiian-born husky might well be churning to fame on his team.

As a Buckeye newcomer last year, Smith swam off with the 200 and 400 free style titles. As the key man of the 10-member Buckeyes squad, he's expected not only to retain those two titles, but also annex Alan Ross' undefended 100-yard title and prove Great Lakes to a free style relay champion.

Then, too, another of Peppe's former boys may topple Ohio State's A. A. U. diving dynasty, built by such stars as Al Patrik and last year's champion, Frank Dempsey. That would be Charley Batterman, Navy trainee at Columbia who last year was Dempsey's teammate and who last week won the low and high board titles in the national collegiate meet.

Sports Writer Looks at Buckeye Basketball Through Indiana Eyes

By HAROLD HARRISON
Ohio AP Sports Editor

COLUMBUS, O., March 30—As finale to the 1943-44 season, a Hoosier begs leave to submit a comparative report on Ohio's high school basketball tournament teams and those in Indiana.

The question—"How does Ohio basketball compare with that in Indiana?"—has been asked this correspondent more than any other since we arrived in Ohio and probably the best answer was given last Saturday night by an Ohioan who replied to his own query:

"They probably have more really good teams in Indiana than in Ohio but I don't imagine there is any difference among those few that eventually finish at or close to the top," he said.

That looks like the best answer.

If this gets back to Indiana we probably won't be able to go there even for a visit but if the four teams which played in the final tournament here last Saturday were to play the four which reached the finals of the Indiana tournament we wouldn't be a bit either way.

And particularly we wouldn't even consider betting against Middletown's Ohio State champs.

If there was any difference between the type of basketball played last Saturday by Middletown or Toledo Woodward and that of which Indiana likes to boast as "the best in the world" these old eyes failed to detect it.

Last Saturday, Martins Ferry didn't look like it belonged in a final state tournament but we've seen times in Indiana—last year for example—when a team reached the finals and looked as if it didn't have any business in a championship event.

But that always will happen in a tournament. Sometimes a really good team gets the "buck" in a

"WRESTLING TONIGHT"

Plenty of action is assured Marion wrestling fans tonight at the Armory. Starting the program at 8:30 Steve Nenoff, old favorite of Marion fans, will meet Angelo Martellini, clever Italian from New York. Next is the one hour semi-final, two out three falls between Gil LaCross and Jackie Nichols. Both these grapplers are popular with the local fans and have never had a bad match so together they should match a great bout.

The two hour main event should be about the roughest ever seen in Marion for Paul Bozell has signed to wrestle Buddy Knox, the most hated grappler to come to Marion. They will wrestle two out of three falls.—Adv.

LOVE'S FAIR HORIZON

By ADELE GARRISON

MY FIRST impulse was to give Mr. Shumway's proposal that he do an errand while I was busy in the Easthampton library. He had charged me so exorbitantly for the drive from the farm to Easthampton that, even though I knew it was meant as blackmail for his silence concerning my unexpected visitors to the farmhouse, my anger for a flaming instant outran my discretion.

Composes Herself.

Then I flailed myself back to composure. My sole reason for this trip to Easthampton was to keep him from finding out that Hugh and Lee Chow had not left the farmhouse. He must not discover, I told myself fiercely, that Charlie Kent was driving the two Ticer men, muffed to the ears, to Riverhead in an elaborate attempt to preserve that secret. And my first business was to keep Shumway good-humored.

Yet I knew also that I must not admit, by word or manner, that he was blackmailing me.

Therefore I knitted my eyebrows into a puzzled frown, and asked:

"How long will your errand take?"

He looked at me slyly.

"How long will you be at the library? There's no need of me standing outside there waiting when I've errands to do, too. This is wartime, you know."

My fingers itched with the impulse to slap his impudent face. His use of the phrase, which should be a slogan to all patriots and which has been profaned by many racketeers and indolent riff raff, infuriated me, and again I had to remind myself forcibly that I was playing a role.

No Objection.

"I may be twenty minutes. I may be longer," I said. "And I have no objection to your doing an errand on my time. But," I finished firmly, "I shall want you back at the library, twenty-five minutes after you leave me here, and shall wish you to wait until I come out."

He evidently realized that I could be pushed just so far, and I guessed that he did not have too high an opinion of my mentality—or that of any woman—but that he also knew how stubborn an unreasoning one could be. At any rate, he answered me indulgently, as if he were speaking to a child.

YOUR HEALTH

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

Aspects of Vision

Poor vision is a problem that has different aspects in the young from that which it has in older people.

Poor vision in children is due, in nearly all cases, to poor mechanical construction of the eyes—short-sightedness and far-sightedness—which depend on improper length of the eyeball or astigmatism, which is improper curvature of the cornea.

These mechanical defects do not cause any disability until the child begins intensive use of the eyes—until it begins school. An astigmatic, or short-sighted, eye does very well for walking and running around, playing with toys, etc. And the child, never being conscious of any disability, may be utterly confused when it is called upon to read, and can make no sense out of the printed page. Never having experienced any visual difficulty before, it cannot analyze the reason for not being able to keep up with its companions. And the parents put it down to stubbornness.

It is a common experience for an oculist to have such a child brought to him, and on asking it to read the letters on a test chart, which would require a visual ability of only 5 per cent of normal, to have the child exclaim: "I don't see any letters at all."

It doesn't mean the child is going blind—or is partially blind, merely near-sighted.

Poor vision in the old, or middle aged, however, never has this kind of approach. The middle aged man knows his vision is failing because he has a standard of an active life with good vision to compare it by. Of course in the middle aged not one case in a thousand is due to anything but the natural loss of elasticity of the lens—presbyopia—which glasses will remedy.

But that one-in-a-thousandth case may be cataract or glaucoma.

Glaucoma is an increase in the pressure inside the eyeball. If not relieved the pressure may destroy the optic nerve. This can be prevented in over 90% of cases if it is discovered early enough.

Glaucoma practically always attacks both eyes and usually strikes people over 40. Glaucoma sometimes causes pain in the eyes, but rarely. Those who have pain from their glaucoma are lucky because it takes them to the oculist. Most have slight indications of failing vision. Do you have to change your glasses regularly? Do you have slight dimming vision? Do your eyes or head ache after a prolonged stay in the dark? Do you see halos around street lights? These things do not necessarily mean glaucoma, but they may.

If you go to your oculist regularly after forty he will test the pressure of your eyeballs as part of a routine examination and this warns you in time.

The danger to the middle aged person with failing vision is that he is likely to try some fool procedure that avoids treatment by an oculist. I have a letter from someone who wanted to know if killing a chicken and putting the warm entrails on the eye would cure cataract. But this is no worse than the exercises advocated by Mr. Julian Huxley. I saw a man the other day who had gone blind from glaucoma because he was convinced little, silly eye exercises would prevent it.

The Stars Say—

For Friday, March 31
A DIFFICULT day in which much depends upon self control, equanimity and a mode of conduct which will contribute to safe, peaceful conditions throughout the world. Equations and impulses well regulated. Running counter to the wishes and directions of elders, superiors or employers may bring greater good. While there may be a surprising turn of events in the constructive platform, yet there are tricky circumstances to be met with. These demands are inhibitory. Racial indulgence or sensitiveness might react upon health and peace.

On the home front—it is may have a year of progress and surprising advancement—practical, imaginative and gratifying—if they will take themselves in hand, and, by proper planning, and the proper approach to superiors, employers or elders. Friction may result in unhappy situations in both personal and professional spheres. Creative, emotional thinking or experiments may be detrimental to certain prospects of a fresh, unique or novel aspect.

On the social front, this day will have a latent in unusual directions, but it may be nervous, high-strung and emotional; to a degree that will react on its health and the happy contacts with elders and superiors.

On the home front, birthday—it is PLEASED. General Dwight D. Eisenhower (above), commander-in-chief of all Allied forces organizing in the United Kingdom for the momentous and much-heralded second front, smiles as he watches maneuvers in Britain.

Estonia normally produces almost a ton of potatoes annually for each inhabitant.
